Announcing the new Small Projects and Tenant Improvement Division!

HARDT CONSTRUCTION SERVICES is known for its long-standing reputation in superb remodeling, construction from the ground up, and acclaimed interior design services — but did you know they have also launched an all-new service line? Their new division, Small Projects and Tenant Improvement (SPTI), provides an all-in-one solution for home and business repairs and small project needs in addition to their full remodel and design services. The equipped and skilled staff can fix just about anything — from a broken outlet to a leaky sink to drywall repair and more.

Hardt Construction Services witnessed a need in the Bakersfield community for a new service offering — a division dedicated to small improvement projects for both home and business. This is a welcome addition to their robust list of construction and design services. The company recently launched the SPTI division in response to an overwhelming number of requests from clients that the company provide these sought-after services.

“Over the years we have been asked both by customers and community members if we do one-off repairs and smaller type projects. With people working more from home, we have been inundated with requests to provide such a service,” says co-owner Tim Hardt.

The SPTI division moves quickly — they provide a bid for the projects, give an estimate within 24 hours of the initial consultation and then their team of experts gets started right away. SPTI projects usually take a maximum of five days of work and are budgeted at $25,000 or less. Hardt says, “If it doesn’t meet these criteria, it will be moved into the general construction division seamlessly.” Upon assessment, if the project is considerably larger in scale, HCS can swiftly facilitate the order through its other divisions. Hardt Construction Services is now the go-to contractor that can facilitate home improvement projects, no matter the size.

Hardt says, “Because we are a licensed general contractor, we can self-perform all construction trades in-house without the need to call in several different contractors.” The intrinsic trait of professionalism for which HCS is known carries through to their new division. According to Hardt, “We are bringing our proven and long-standing reputation to the residential and commercial customers with a professional service for smaller projects.”

Moreover, HCS accommodates your needs and vision for your home. They will discuss any additions to the listed services that might be required for your particular project. Another perk of SPTI is that discounts are provided for bundled projects if you require several different home improvement projects.

The company’s new division is also built with tech solutions. After contacting HCS, you are then added to their scheduling system where you receive real-time texts and emails of the technician’s schedule. Customers can track the technician’s location to see their estimated time of arrival. This feature includes the technician’s name and picture for your safety. While on-site, the tech will provide an estimate for the client’s approval, then complete the work that day or according to the client’s availability.

With this anticipated addition, HCS is now Bakersfield’s go-to, all-in-one solution for small project and construction services — from start to finish. Remove the headache of contacting several different tradesmen or even running the risk of hiring an unlicensed handyman. HCS provides experienced and reliable technicians to complete your small projects for both home and commercial projects.

Regardless of the size of your home or business, maintaining it can be a struggle. While you may not have the time or the tools to accomplish everything on your to-do list, Hardt Construction Services provides you with a reliable team of experts who offer small project services to make your vision for home and commercial improvement a reality. BL
